

CSCMP Australian Roundtable President announced

by Press Release on 2012-11-30

The Supply Chain and Logistics Association of Australia (SCLAA) announced today that David Rogers has been elected to take up the position of Australian Roundtable President of the Council of Supply Chain Management Professionals (CSCMP).

This prestigious appointment represents a very important opportunity to accelerate the development of the Supply Chain profession and practice at all levels in Australia.

David Rogers election follows the earlier formalisation of an historic exclusive agreement between The SCLAA and CSCMP to collaborate in establishing a joint Roundtable in Australia. The Agreement offers SCLAA a pathway for a global presence as well as access to the unique vast resources of CSCMP.

According to Mr David Rogers "The appointment confirms the increasing influence and value of the SCLAA to all Supply Chain and Logistics professionals and practitioners."

"I expect the collaboration with the CSCMP to be a vehicle for the expansion and exchange of knowledge. The CSCMP has been a global leader for many years, particularly via landmark conferences, outstanding speakers and ground-breaking research. I am delighted to become President of the Australian Roundtable at this auspicious time, with the intent of delivering real value to members of both organisations." Mr Roger said.

David Rogers is currently National Chairman of the SCLAA. For more information on the CSCMP Partnership please contact the SCLAA National Office on 1300 364 160, email secretary@sclaa.com.au or visit the CSCMP page on www.sclaa.com.au
